Date: 06/06/2022

Duration: 6 hours

Time: 10 A.M.

Venue: Gobinda Prasad Mahavidyalaya

Number of Participants: 23

Objectives of the Activity / Event: To make the students aware about the benefits of donating blood.

Outcome of the Event: People became aware about the advantages of donating blood for the betterment of the society.

Description of the Event:

A Voluntary blood donation camp was organised by the NSS UNIT I & II of Gobinda Prasad Mahavidyalaya. Altogether 23 NSS volunteers and teachers donated their blood. The blood was collected by and sent to the Bankura Sammilani Medical College and Hospital blood bank.

Amidst the extreme heat wave and locational inconvenience students attended the camp and donated their blood.

But it was felt that a widespread fear and prejudice against blood donation is still prevalent. Although the new generation could be convinced about the importance of blood donation, in many cases they were desisted from coming over to college to donate blood. It was concluded that a mass awareness campaign, rally, face-to-face meeting or seminar should be arranged prior to organizing a voluntary blood donation camp.
